YOUR MONEY BELIEF

Money Is Just There

This belief stems from your childhood where "money was there, meaning I didn't feel like it was scarce and we struggled but also didn't feel like it was abundant." This creates an underlying sense that money is simply a neutral presence, not a powerful tool for creation or expansion.

HOW IT SHOWS UP

Hesitation to invest aggressively in growth opportunities

Underestimating the potential for financial breakthroughs

A passive approach to wealth creation

Difficulty celebrating financial wins

This belief has limited your financial results by preventing you from actively pursuing and expecting true abundance.

YOUR WORTHINESS BELIEF

I Lacked Love and Connection

Your identity gap reveals a feeling that your childhood "lacked love and connection," leading to a sense of going through the motions without deep engagement. This translates into a subconscious belief that you might not be fully worthy of profound connection or vivid experiences.

HOW IT SHOWS UP

Difficulty forming deep, lasting personal connections

A tendency to observe rather than fully participate

Feeling emotionally detached in significant moments

Struggling to articulate your deepest desires and needs

This belief has limited your relationships and leadership by creating a subtle barrier to genuine emotional intimacy and full self-expression.

YOUR CORE BELIEF

Doubt We Can Achieve Our Goals

Your core belief, "In business I have doubt that we can actually achieve the goals and levels that we say we want to hit," is a profound lack of self-trust. This doubt is deeply intertwined with the underlying belief that money is merely 'there' and that you might lack the intrinsic worthiness for truly abundant and connected experiences.

HOW IT SHOWS UP

Procrastination on critical business initiatives

Setting conservative targets despite grand ambitions

A tendency to self-sabotage when nearing success

Constant internal questioning of your capabilities

This belief has been the primary handbrake on your growth, preventing you from fully committing to and realizing your highest business aspirations.

THE HIDDEN IMPACT

CAREER & BUSINESS

This belief pattern is blocking your ability to confidently scale your business and achieve the ambitious goals you envision.

RELATIONSHIPS

This pattern is preventing you from experiencing the deepest levels of love, connection, and emotional fulfillment in your personal relationships.

PURPOSE & MEANING

This pattern is blocking you from fully stepping into your powerful purpose and making the impact you are truly capable of.

HEALTH & ENERGY

This pattern is preventing you from accessing a vibrant sense of energy and well-being, as stress and overwhelm take their toll.

LEADERSHIP & IMPACT

This pattern is blocking your ability to inspire and lead with unshakeable conviction, limiting your influence and reach.

YOUR TRANSFORMATION POTENTIAL

When you shift from the belief that 'money is just there' to embracing it as an abundant

When you shift from the belief that money is just there to understanding it as an abundant resource, and from feeling a lack of 'love and connection' to knowing your inherent worthiness, a profound transformation will occur. Your business will no longer be limited by doubt; instead, you'll find yourself achieving goals and levels you once only dreamed of, because you'll finally trust in your ability to create and receive. This isn't just about more money; it's about unlocking a vibrant, connected life where you are fully present, fully engaged, and fully deserving of every success.
